*THE INVESTITURE OF THE VICEROY OF EGYPT WITH THE STAR OF INDIA.

L'Egypte of the 26th Nov., gives an account of the investiture of the Vicerov with the order of the Star of India :-

Lord Napier then said-Your Highness,-Her Most Gracious Majesty, Victoria, invest your Highness with the Grand Cross distinction for Princes of the blood royal of Great Britain, for great illustrious Princes of the East, who have, by their faithful alliance and friendship, evinced attachment to Her Majesty, and for such distinguished statesmen and soldiers as have merited her Majesty's favor by eminent services to hor Indian Empire. It is Her Majesty's desire that, in conveying to your Highness this mark of her favour. I shall omit nothing which can serve to show her Majesty's regard for your Highness, and the sonse which Her Majesty entertains of the friendship displayed by your Highness towards her Majesty's forces engaged in the late expedition in Abyssinia, especially in placing freely at the disposal of Her Majosty's Agent and Consul General, Colonel Stanton, the resources of Egypt in stores and transport. I feel highly honoured at being selected by my Gracious Sovereign for this important ceremony. I avail myself of the opportunity thus afforded me of offering my cordial acknowledgment as Commander-in-Chief of the army of Abyswas very much different from honesty, and citement, stoned H.M.S. Cockchafer's boats, don, Paris and Berlin, and erect Consulates by your Highness's orders to the force which I commanded, and of expressing my sincere wishes for your Highness's continued health and prosperity.

His Highness the Vicorov made a reply in French, of which the following is a trans lation:- I am extremely touched by the new mark of consideration and friendship which Her Majesty the Queen of Great Britain shows towards me in conferring up on me the Grand Cross of the Star of India-a high distinction reserved for the princes of the royal blood and for those civil and military officers who have signalized themselves by eminent services in India. In favouring with all my power the passage of the English troops through Egypt on their way to Abyssinia, I have been glad to seize this occasion of giving t the English nation a new proof of my friendship and sympathy. My intercourse with your eminent representative. Colonel Stanton, has been, as ever, marked under these circumstances with a frank cordiality. The choice which Her Majesty the Queen has made, of the eminent and skilful couqueror of Magdala, in order to convey to me the insignia of the order with which she honours me, adds a new value to this distinction. I am happy to see your Excellency again on this occasion, and I beg you to present to Her Majesty my thanks, and

The only way to secure that end without ensuring also in unnecessary and therefore shocking amount of human suffering, is to their make the law as absolute as in the earlier days of our Navy the captain's will was. absolute over all alike, from the commandor to the cabin-boys. We have nearly succuded in that object in the Navy, and though we have there the advantage that the officers are gentlemen, and the Courts can more universally trust their ceremony we might, we believe, apply the same system in the Merchant Service. In the single case of violent mutiny there is no help.she officers must be left practically free subject to subsequent inquiry into the causes which provoked the rising. But it is not necessary to ordinary discipline that a blow should ever be struck without a written sentence, with the reasons, signed by at least three persons, -the captain, his mate, and one other. It is not necessary that punishment other than arrest'should be inflicted on offenders without twenty-four hours' delay. It is not necessary that any "cruel or unusual" punishment, like that of keeping a lad naked on deck in Arctic cold, should ever he resorted to. And above all,-though here we know we shall part company with very kindly officers. - it is not necessary that the crew should be entirely unprovided with any means of remonstrating against an order visibly involving human life.; It is inconceivable, -- indeed, the idea is disproved by the evidence in court,-that the crew of the Arran were insensible to the cruelty being enacted on the Newfoundland coast, or that they would not, if left free, have remonstrated. It is, we fear, greatly fear, cruel as the sentence may seem, impossible to invest the crew with any right of resistance, even in a case so extreme as this; the utinost we can do is to. leave such resistance to the judgment of a jury; but a recorded remonstrance would be an evidence against him such as no sane officer would like to face. The main point, however, the secret of all just discipline, however severe, -and discipline at sea has for its first object prompt and unquestioning abedience, -is, that no punishment shall be inflicted, however great or however slight, except judically, to enforce order, and with a record. We know all that will be urged about the ruffianism, and lawlessness, and viciousness of a particular class of sailor, and admit to the full that half the talk about the "docility and childlikeness of jack Tar," is poetry, or falsehood; but there never was a crew yet which could not be kept in order by the steady exercise of logal authority, backed, in the case of open violent mutiny. by the strongest military law. A ship in which officers wear "knuckledusters" is a ship in mere anatchy

and part of that anarchy is, we are bound. -a law so imperfect that while it produces daily acts of cruelty, it produces also the state of opinion evident in the verdict of the Edinburgh jury, and the otherwise ine credible sentence of the judge, Kilung, April 2, 1868. HOLLOWAY'S PILLS & OINTMENT.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS. I HIS Medicine is universally admitted I to be the most efficacious remedy known to the world. No preparation is so suitable to the climates of India and China as this fine and invigorating medicine. It is particularly adapted to the constitution of European ladies, as it is never failing in its effects in all diseases peculiar to females, while those who are attenuated by the debilitating effects of the above climates will find in this wonderful remedy a kind of talisman whereby they may insure a restoration to robust health.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT. The science of Medicine has never before produced any remedy that can be compared to this wonderful Ointment, as it cures after all other means have failed, all wounds, sores, ulcers, and also the most inveterate skin diseases peculiar to the climates of India and China. It is the true friend of the Soldier and Civilian, as certain old sores can be removed by it that cannot be conquered by any other treat-
